NEW MEXICAN INDIANS IN COURT.-Yesterday morning Captain Jourdan, of the Sixth precinct, and officer Riker, of his force, brought before Justice Dowling a gentleman named John Ward, claiming to be an agent of the United States government, who had had some masunderstanding with two Indians named Antieni Albata and Alexander Padilia, the latter of whom is tovernor of a tribe of Indians in New Mexico. The parties all came from New Mexico to Washington on some business connected with the government, Ward actury as interpreter. While the Mexican representatives of their tribe to our government were in Washington they received about $1,500, with which, accompanied by their interpreter, they came to this city and took lotgings at the hotel of Mr. Leech, corner of Bayard street and the Bowery. The Indians being mable to speak our language placed their money in the hands of their agent, who, for greater security, deposited it in the safe of Mr. Leech. The Indians seeing Mr. Ward about to leave the hotel in a carriage without them became impressed with the belief that he was going to decamp with their funds; hence a controversy arose between them which had a tendency to lead to a breach of the peace. On reaching the court Mr. Ward made a satisfactory explanation to the migristrate and also expressed a willingness to restore the money to the owners at once. Captain Jourian was accordingly deputed to see that the owners, who took the night train for Washington earrouse to their distant home. be an agent of the United States government, who

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WEDNESDAY, May 13-6 P. M.

This has been an extremely dull day in Wall street, the severe storm and the prevailing uncertainty with respect to the action of the Senate concerning with respect to the action of the Senate concerning Mr. Johnson having combined to make speculation unusually languid. That whited sepulchre of buried fortunes, the Stock Exchange building, contrasted in its stillness with the din which accompanies an active market, and the brokers moved about listlessly, like so many Othellos with their occupation gone or shades of Micawber waiting for something to turn up. Nothing turned up, however, from the opening to the close of business, and the only thing that came down handsomely was the rain. Stocks, unlike Captain Scott's 'coon, refused to come down, notwithstanding the absence of outside buyers, and the bears glowered at them in vain. There they stood, from hour to hour, without variation, literally to be in any mood for warfare, both being wil preserve, for the time being, a masterly inactivity. In the gold room and among the dealers in government securities and foreign exchange the same sluggish feature was presented, and few of all the heterogeneous army of brokers and other professional speculators who wend their way to Wall street daily succeeded in making enough to pay their expenses. How soon this stagnation will give place to activity depends upon the cliques; but it is not probable that there will be any material change in the aspect of affairs until Saturday, and then much will hinge upon the proceedings in the Senate. There are some who argue that conviction and removal will be, the President's fate, and that thereupon stocks will rise in view of a policy of inflation under the administration of Ben Wade, while there are others who believe that his deposition, by unsettling confidence, will produce temporary depression. A still greater number, however, contend that his acquittal, by restoring confidence in the stability and harmony of things, will stimulate speculation for a rise, and that, figuratively speaking, the bulls will pile Pellon on Ossa before a breakdown occurs. Prices are already high, but where prices afford no guide to values it is to say how much higher the cliques may temporarily put them if fortune favors their operations; but at present quotations there is clearly no inducement to buy anything but government securities for investment, and these are likely to command higher prices in the future than they have ever yet done, providing Congress does its duty to the country in legislating upon the financial question, which will doubtless be taken up soon after the termination of this great State trial, which already verges on a farce. The currency internal taxation, the tariif and the public expenditures are the subjects with which it will have to deal; and upon these the debates promise to be very spirited. It should be the aim of Congress throughout to reduce taxation and expenditure in equal degrees, and, while relieving the burdens of the people, strengthen the public credit, in which connection all disturbing and unnecessary funding schemes should be rejected. So far as the five-twenty bonds are concerned the debt is already funded, and it would be penny wise and pound foolish to disturb it; but the subjects before referred to will afford Congress ample scope

The money market is gradually growing easier, and loans are now made almost exclusively at six per cent, although seven per cent is asked in most instances for small amounts on miscellaneous stocks. There is a less rigid scrutiny of collaterals than was noticeable a few weeks ago, but the highly indated stocks, Fort Wayne among them, are treated with great caution. The reports of the latter company show that its ten per cent dividends have been paid out of the proceeds of sales of new stock, and that if this "watering" process had not been resorted to the company could not have paid dividends to its stockholders. Such railway management as this is certain to be ultimately disastrous to the stockholders, however much it may for the time being subserve speculative purposes in Wall street. It is still fresh in the public mind that Atlantic Mail was a ten per cent tock at the time it fell more than sixty per cent in a single day and nearly involved the Third Avenue Savings Bank in its ruins. There is a steady flow of currency from the interior and the loanable resources of the banks are increasing, while the demand continues light both for loans and discounts, owing to the dulness of trade and speculation. First class commercial paper passes on the street at seven per cent, and the banks take their customers' paper at the same rate.

Government securities were dull but steady during the day, and the orders for small lots from investors showed no failing off. Speculation was, however, languid, owing mainly to the suspense with which the result of the impeachment trial is awaited. The Assistant Treasurer bought more than half a million of seven-thirty notes during the morning, making about two millions and a fourth thus far in the week. The voluntary conversions of seven-thirties into amounted to $816,450 yesterday and $505,600 on Mon day, making a total of $3,443,700 since the 1st inst. demand for bonds for the reinvestment of the May interest has not yet been fully felt, as there still remain undrawn about eight millions of the amount payable at this centre. The growing monetary ease is favorable to the upward tendency of prices, and with the settlement of the impeachment question, whether it involve the acquittal or the removal of the President, a general improvement in the demand for United States stocks will doubtless be witnessed. At the close the market was dull and steady at the following quotations:-Registered, 1881, 1131/4 a 1131/4: conpon, 1881, 11334 a 11374; 5-20's, registered, 1862, 106¼ a 106½; 5-20's, coupon, 1862, 108¾ a 109; do., 1864, 106¾ a 107¼; do., 1865, 107¼ a 107¼; do., 1865, January and July, 109% a 109%; do., 1867, 109% a 100%; 10-40's, registered, 103% n 103%; 10-40's, coupon, 103% a 103%; June 7.30's, 107% a 107%; July 7.30's, 107% a 107%; May compounds, 1864, 119%; August do., 118; September do., 117%; October do.,

The gold market was extremely dull all day, and the fluctuations were from 139% to 139%, with the closing transactions, before the adjournment of the board and afterwards, at 139%. There was a moderate borrowing demand for coin, and loans were made at 4 a 6 per cent per annum for carrying and without interest. The gross clearings amounted to $24,077,743, the gold balances to $39,459,000, and the currency balances to $5,945,900. The Treasury has been selling less than its customs receipts at this port for several days past, and its present policy is to reduce its currency balance by the purchase of seven-thirty notes in excess of its gold sales. The isbursements in payment of the May interest on the public debt are at the rate of about $400,000 per day, and the payments up to the close of business evening aggregated $11,767,000. The export of specie by to-day's steamer was $450,000. Opinions in the gold room are about equally divided with reference to the President's case before the Senate; but no disposition is shown to discount the final result, as its influence upon the premium will be slight.

At the open board at half-past three speculation was almost at a standstill, but prices were unattered. During the remainder of the afternoon nothing occurred to disturb the monotony of the market, and owing to the heavy rain storm the brokers described the street early. At the close at five o'clock the following quotations were current:—Pacific Mail, 22% a 22%; Canton Company, 50 a 51; Quicksilver, 30¼ a 30½; Western Union Telegraph, 38% a 33½; New York Central, 128% a 128%; Erie, 60% a 69½; Hudson River, 186;

The foreign exchange market continues firm but dull, the supply of bills drawn against cotton and general produce being light, while the demand from importers is equally limited. Bankers are however, unwilling to draw unless at rates permitting of the shipment of specie against their bills. The cotton exports are now on a largely reduced scale. Bankers' bills on England at sixty days were quoted at 110 a 110%; at three days, 110% a 110%; commercial bills, 109% a 109%. Bills on Paris
